Our Produce

We are lucky enough to have not only an abundance of fantastic local produce on our door step, but also our very own home grown produce from our family farms next door at Omachie and East Denside. We currently use our own strawberries, raspberries, blueberries, rhubarb, pork, fresh free range farm eggs and peas in our restaurant seasonally. Our pork has 50% White Duruc, bringing fantastic marbling through the meat, as well as 25% Landrace, and 25% Large White. Unlike many pigs in the UK our pigs are fed on co-products from the brewery and milk world bringing exceptional flavour seldom tasted elsewhere. The basic diet of our pigs is Loch Lomond Gold, Tennents yeast, Whey, Soya and Barley. We have also teamed up with Scott Brothers Butchery to deliver our farm pork to the restaurant. Many of our suppliers are local family businesses including Scott Brothers, Bel's Butchers, Turrieffs, Mackies of Scotland Potato Crisps and Ice cream, Braehead Foods, Luvians of Fife and Ochil foods.

Our History

Our history goes back to 1966, when farmer Alistair Graham Forbes brought his American bride, Cindy, to Omachie Farmhouse, Kingennie with their son Michael. When Mike was six he caught his first fish in the Buddon Burn, and his passion for fishing was born. From a young age, Mike worked on the farm and made pocket money breeding pigs in a shed, which he later developed into a prosperous business. He won the Scottish National Fly Fishing Championships in 1991, and was selected for the Scottish Fly Fishing Team. He became captain of the team in 1993 and winner of the Phoenix Salver for Best International Scottish Rod. Mike converted an overgrown corner of the farm into a fishery and three self-catering lodges, opening in 1995 as Kingennie Fishings with the old boathouse renovated into a fishing shop. The success of this venture encouraged Mike and his wife Gail to continuously invest and extend to create the resort that you see today. The old Boathouse is now our Leannan Boathouse, a romantic hideaway for lovers and Honeymooners, and Kingennie has grown to be one of Scotland's premier wedding venues. There is continuous investment around the resort and The Forbes family are still very passionate about Kingennie and hope to share this passion with all those who visit Forbes of Kingennie Country Resort.
