

TASTING NOTES

If you are unsure of what wine to choose, or looking to try something different, we've put together some hints and tips below to help with your selection.

BALANCE

Balance is key when matching wine with food. Richer, full-flavoured wines will work best with hearty dishes, while subtle dishes work much better with delicate wines so that neither the wine nor the food dominates the flavours.

INGREDIENTS

Sauces are often the dominant element of a dish, so try choosing a wine to match sauce first, then the main ingredient. For example, a peppercorn sauce on your steak will go wonderfully with a Cabernet Sauvignon.

NATIONALITY

Food often goes best with wines from the same country or region as they have grown up together! So if you are eating French food, try matching it with French wine.

WHITE BEFORE RED

If you are planning on matching wines to each course, it is better to start with lighter, younger wines – which are normally the whites – before moving onto the heavier older reds.

MOST IMPORTANTLY...

FOLLOW YOUR INSTINCT

It's your taste that matters. While our tips should help you make your selection, there are no right or wrongs with wine – so if it tastes good for you, go with it!

Some of our wines are available in 125ml measures. Please ask your server. Subject to availability. Please drink responsibly, see drinkaware.co.uk for the facts.
